BROCKIE, EDMONTON, WINS GRAND CHALLENGE

Defeats Winteringham, of Same City, by 12-11 Score in Final of 'Spiel Premiere

Taylor of Wetaskiwin and Poole of Daysland In Finals of Loggie—Graham and Poole of Wetaskiwin Fighting In Out For First Place in the Boone—Barth of Millet and Brockie of Edmonton Finalists in Williamson Event

The great centre of attraction this week is the curling rink where the annual bonspiel is taking place. The club was favored with ideal weather conditions and the ice was in first-class condition during the entire event. There were ten visiting rinks, four being from Edmonton, three from Millet and one each from Ponoka, Daysland and Camrose, while there was an equal number of Wetaskiwin entries.

Good progress has been made with the play, as all the jewelry events were reached by Wednesday and the grand challenge final was played Wednesday evening between Brockie and Winteringham of Edmonton, the former winning the coveted event by a score of 12-11.

Among the hardest fought games of the 'spiel were the encounters between the Poole brothers. Stewart emerged victorious over his brother, from Daysland Wednesday morning, but the tables were reversed in the semi-finals in the Loggie, when S. won out by 15-13.

On Monday evening the visiting curlers were guests of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon, when a delightful time was spent. The Ladies' Curling Club served meals throughout the bonspiel, which was a great convenience to the players.

GREAT CHURCH AT TORONTO IS BURNED DOWN

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Fire which broke out about 4:30 a.m. today practically destroyed the Metropolitan church, one of the leading United churches in the country. The walls and tower are left standing and the loss is estimated at $500,000. The origin of the fire has not yet been determined. The beautiful gothic structure was built about fifty years ago and for years was the centre of Methodist activities in Toronto.

Wetaskiwin Will Have a Public Library

Confederation Day, July 1st, 1927, saw Wetaskiwin emerge from its crystal and become a real centre of activity. Its opening of a Memorial Park, its building of an historical monument in the shape of a cairn, and the great and successful historical pageant held at the Fair Grounds marked a milestone in the history of Wetaskiwin. At Tuesday evening's Council meeting Mayor Montgomery asked the City Council to consider the advisability of starting a real live Board of Trade, to be composed of the citizens and members from the surrounding district, with the object at present of meeting once a month to consider what is best for the welfare of the city and district. This received a hearty response and was at once endorsed by the Council. The formation of a Board of Trade is now in the Mayor's hands and the city will, at last, forge ahead.

Another milestone in the city's history was reached when the City Council, last night, granted the request of the City Clerk that he be allowed to start a public library for the city by being authorized to receive and collect donations of books to form the nucleus of a library.

Then it was testified the minister drew the gun and flourished it and Deacon Johnson and several of his friends went out nearby windows.

Rev. Edmonds on whom sentence was postponed pending a motion for a new trial, testified that all he could remember of the disturbance was that someone hit him on the head with a piano stool.

MARSHALL'S LIMITED SOLD TO GEORGE LOWRY LIMITED

A large and important business deal was made when George Lowry Limited of Camrose, purchased the business of Marshall's Limited and will move the stock into the Burns Block, which has also been acquired, just as soon as the building can be remodelled by the installation of a modern store front and the necessary interior alterations.

New Addition to the Driard Hotel Is Formally Opened

Had Samuel Pepps been alive and danced by a Madame Enman, which I enjoyed hugely, as it did show that he was in it and not lightly to be esteemed, and I doubt not that many were envious that they could not foot it in the same graceful manner. I did dance and eat until a late hour and then returned to my apartment in the Driard hostelry, a mighty curious name, and I did shake hands with myself that the grand opening of the "Pal," and being curious did buy me a ticket from one of the fair damsels and joined the throng. Mighty glad that I did so, for a right royal time was had and I enjoyed myself in a great manner. We were received by Miss Host Smith and his gracious lady, and were mighty astonished at the addition to his hostelry. It all being laid out with much good taste and is a great addition to the town, and we commend Master Smith for his courage and enterprise. All the ladies of the town were there and I did much admire their beautiful dresses, which set off their lovely figures to perfection, but I am in no wise fitted to describe these lovely costumes, for being a mere male it is a mystery much too deep for me. The gentlemen, old and young, all joined in the dancing with great vigour, and right royal did many of them look in their dinner jackets, which I believe is a fashion lately come to town. There was much gaiety and merriment and everybody did behave with much good humor. During the evening there was an exhibition of well deserved.

We extend our heartfelt congratulations to Mr. Smith, and we trust that he will meet with the support he so well deserves.

St. Andrews Presbyterian Church's Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregation was held in the church on Friday, the 27th February. Mayor H. J. Montgomery occupied the chair, Mr. J. I. Poole being secretary for the meeting. A goodly number of members and adherents were present and much interest was displayed in the reports of the various departments of the church's work.

A financial statement was read to the meeting. This statement was prepared in part by Mr. J. E. Fraser and in part by the recently appointed Secretary-treasurer, Mr. A. H. Liveridge. According to the figures presented in this statement the congregation is in a healthy financial condition, having met all obligations for the past year and made ample provision for the first quarter of the New Year.

The session's report intimated that while there had been nothing phenomenal about the growth of the congregation the church membership had more than doubled since the induction of the minister in February, 1926.

A recommendation was adopted confirming the appointment of the following slate of Sunday school teachers and officers for 1928: General superintendent, Rev. P. C. McCrae; primary superintendent, Mrs. Chas. Boyer; senior girls' teacher, Mrs. Redmond; senior boys' P. C. McCrae; junior intermediate teacher, Mrs. G. S. Smith; secretary, Roy Liveridge; treasurer, Flora Stewart; pianist, Gert Liveridge; assistant pianist, Helen Smith.

W. H. JIGGINS ARRESTED ON 1921 CHARGE

Curiously landed William H. Jiggins, former Toledo butcher, in jail at Toronto, charged with buying cattle in the Fort Saskatchewan district in 1921 to the extent of $11,000, and paying for them in "N.S.F." cheques.

The Alberta provincial police have been on the alert for Jiggins since the offence was committed, and recently a letter was received from a man signing himself H. C. Payne, Toronto, inquiring if there were any warrants out for Wm. H. Jiggins. Inspector Piper of the newly formed criminal investigation department, "smelled a rat," got in touch with the Toronto city police, and has just been notified that his man is under arrest.

ALBERTA'S COAL RESOURCES ARE BEYOND COMPREHENSION

Alberta's coal resources are so vast that they can hardly be comprehended. Year after year new wealth of fuel is being discovered and added to the previous totals. Prof. John A. Allan, the province's statistician in this respect, states that Alberta's coal resources are 327,663,360,000 metric tons, 307 times more than was formerly estimated. Recoverable coal he estimates to be thirty times more than the earlier estimate. And in addition she has only begun to tap her natural gas reservoir. More gas is already tapped than can be used. One big well, the Rogers-Imperial in Southern Alberta, has a flow of 50,000,000 cubic feet a day, but this well is gelled and will remain sealed until such time as a market can be found. Besides the fuel aspect, there is no doubt but that coal and natural gas will be utilized far more extensively for power development as the needs justify.

PRAIRIE INDIANS IMPROVE CONDITIONS

In dealing with her Indian population of approximately 105,000, Canada has ever acted on the principle that the aim was to get these wards into a state of self-support and independence as quickly as possible. The task has not been short or easy; the problems of Indians in the Maritimes are not those of British Columbia, nor do solutions worked out in Quebec and Ontario meet the needs of the Prairie Provinces. It is therefore gratifying to find that the reports, season by season, show that in all parts of the Dominion steady progress is being made towards the desired end.

Dealing with the Prairie Provinces where the tribes total 35,000 individuals, entered, about forty-five years ago, into treaty with the Dominion

SUFFERED FOR YEARS CONSTIPATION Was The Trouble

"After my first baby was born my husband got me a vial of and they did me so much good I took three more, and they certainly are excellent pills."

Government, the very fact that in this area the Indian farmers raised in 1927, in round numbers, one million bushels of grain, shows how tremendous have been the strides made. And this is only part of the story. Each year Indians are farming a little better than the year before and each year they are spending their own money to improve their positions and to make their homes more comfortable. Notwithstanding a late spring this year, the Indians seeded 84,534 acres, which was an increase of 2,355 acres over last year. Over six thousand acres of new land were broken and the area summer-fallowed was close to 30,000 acres.

The number of cattle on the reserves has increased slightly over 1925 and the quality of the herds is as maintained as shown by the successes achieved in open competition. Two carloads of steers from the Duck Lake reserve won first prize at the Moose Jaw Feeder and Stocker show in a competition open to the province of Saskatchewan. In the Feeder and Stocker Show at Calgary, Alberta, two shipments of steers from the Blackfoot reserve were awarded second and third prizes. The best prices are commanded by the cattle from the reserves and incomplete returns show that approximately $95,000 was realized from Indian cattle fattened and sold in the three provinces.

The success of the Indians in farming is reflected in the improving home conditions. The year 1927 was one of great building activity on prairie reserves, close to 100 new homes being erected. On the Fairford, Little Saskatchewan, and Lake St. Martin reserves about thirty-five houses have been erected, and about fifteen on the other reserves in the Portage la Prairie and Manitowapah Agency, Manitoba. These dwellings are constructed of logs, chiefly spruce, hewn on both sides and dovetailed at the ends. The sides of the houses range from 14 feet by 18 feet to 16 feet by 22 feet and all are about 12 feet in height. They are finished with shingled roofs, two windows, and a door and are well floored. These are taking the place of the low log shacks with mud roofs. At the Crooked Lakes Agency, Saskatchewan, thirteen new Indian homes and eight barns were built of cedar logs. At the Moose Mountain Agency, also in Saskatchewan, where housing conditions have been poor, the situation is relieved by the erection this year of eleven new houses. These were built of good logs with frame gables and roofs, and are plastered with lime and sand. Sixteen new homes were put up on reserves in the Touchwood Agency, Saskatchewan.

In addition to the money spent by the Indians on new homes, thousands of dollars from their own funds were expended for the purchase of horses, and for implements and other farm equipment. The amount so spent is increasing each year and greater care is being taken by the natives of their stock and equipment.

The rapid change in farming methods among the Indians is largely due to the growing number of graduates from the Indian schools among native farmers of today. The young Indians are taking the places of the older natives and are bringing into use the advanced methods of farming taught in the schools. Greater interest is being shown in vegetable gardening; there is a steady increase in the number of Indians milking cows and making butter, and poultry and swine raising are being added to the other farming pursuits.

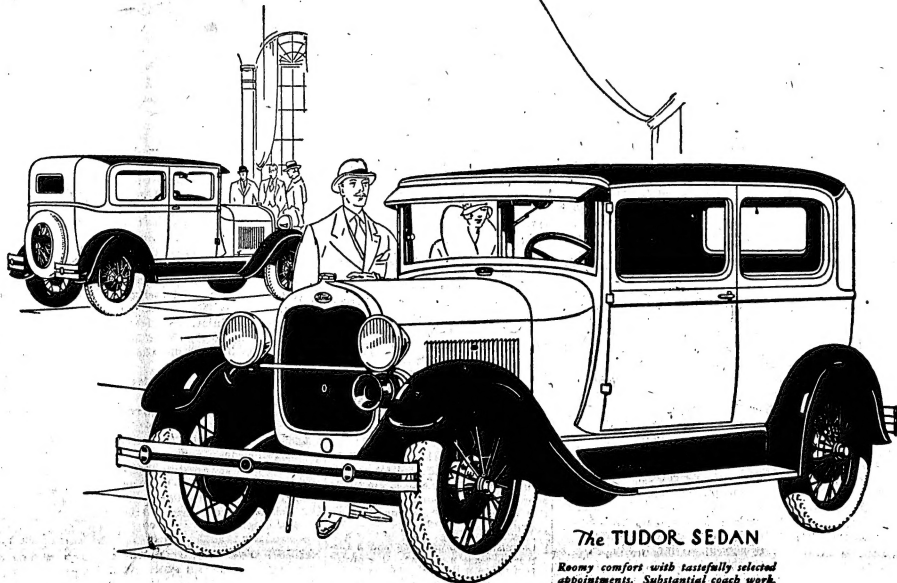

The progress of the Indians of the Prairie Provinces is most encouraging. Socially and economically their advancement has been steady and it is expected that they will reach a position of complete self support and independence.

ELEVENTH HOUR PEOPLE

Did you ever realize how many "eleventh hour" people there are in the world. There is the one who always reaches the depot just as the train is about to pull out, who attends the special sale after the best of the goods have been picked over, who puts on the screens after the flies have arrived and purchases a fly swatter when the last fly is about to depart. They are the last ones to procure their license plates in the spring and delay putting their auto in a warm garage until the water has frozen. They reserve their seats for an entertainment when there is no good choice left and arrive at the theatre after the curtain rises. They clean out their furnace for winter when a cold snap comes and order their coal when the coal dealer is rushed with orders.

Farm Short Course at University Popular

One hundred and twenty-six farmers representing all parts of the province are in attendance at the agricultural short course which opened on Tuesday last at the University of Alberta. In addition to lectures from the staff of the College of Agriculture on Animal Husbandry, Field Husbandry, Soil Management, Agricultural Engineering, and other phases of farming, those in attendance at the course have listened to addresses by a number of members of the Government and officials of the Department of Agriculture. Appreciation is expressed by Dean Howes, head of the College of Agriculture, of the widespread interest which this course has attracted among farmers throughout the province.

Livestock Demonstration Train for C. P.R. Lines
Arrangements have been completed for the tour of the special livestock demonstration train being operated jointly by the Alberta Department of Agriculture and the Canadian Pacific Railway over C. P.R. lines in the south of the province. The train will be accompanied by an official of the railway and representatives of the Department who will give special lectures on livestock breeding, feeding and management. Beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and hogs will be carried on the train. This is in addition to the Porage Crop Special Train which is being operated by the Department and the Canadian National Railway on C.N.R. lines in the central and northern part of the province.

Alberta Has Low Fire Insurance Loss
Comparison of Alberta's record in fire insurance shows that in the case of one of the largest companies handling principally a farm insurance business, the loss ratio in this province was for the first time in six years lower than in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The loss in cents per $100 of insurance, carried by this company was as follows: Alberta, 13.32; Saskatchewan, 17.34; Manitoba, 14.60.

Threshers Asked to Complete Returns for 1927 Crop
Progress is being made in completing a compilation of the total yield of various grain crops raised in the province during 1927 from the returns sent in by threshermen throughout the province. In a number of cases, however, returns have been delayed by the fact that a portion of the 1927 crop will not be threshed until the spring of 1928. Threshermen will secure a 1927 license will be able to complete any necessary spring threshing under this registration securing a new license as usual before beginning operations on the 1928 crop.

Young Orators Preparing for Contest
Keen interest is being taken by High School students throughout the province in the national oratorical contest which is being sponsored in Alberta by the Calgary Herald and the Edmonton Journal. Schools are arranging their elimination contests, the winners of which will meet in district contests, and the victors in these, in turn, will hold their competitions at Calgary and Edmonton to decide the Alberta champion, the winner in the final between these two contestants.

Was Bothered With Her Heart Had Dizzy Spells

Mrs. Clayton Roy, Milton, N.B., writes:—"A short time ago I was greatly bothered with my heart. I could not sleep and would have dizzy spells, I also became so run down I could not do my work, but would just have to sit down."

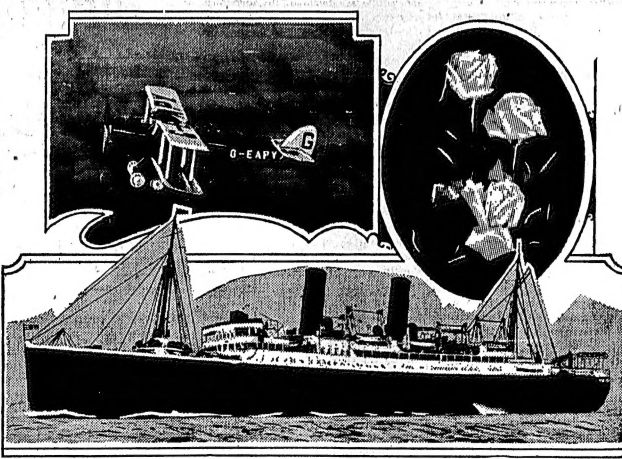

"I spent a lot of money trying different medicines, but none of them seemed to do me any good. At last my mother advised me to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

"After I had taken a couple of boxes I began to feel a lot better, so I continued their use and to-day I am in perfect health and feel as well as I did when I was a young girl."

"I always recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to my friends as I feel that I cannot praise them enough for what they have done for me."

Canadian Roses for Paris Ladies

A gesture of courtesy that used as its means of expression the fragile flowers of the heart of summer conveyed by railway, steamship and airplane, over three thousand miles of land and sea, in the depth of winter, to two ladies in France, was chronicled in the information given out by the Canadian Pacific Express Company.

The flowers were two boxes of roses, grown in the huge greenhouses of the Dale Estate, Brampton, Ontario, and sent by Lieutenant-Colonel J. B. Maclean, president of the Maclean Publishing Company, of Toronto, to Princess Carolyn de Faucigny-Lucinge, who was a patient in the American Hospital in Paris, and to the Countess Odon de Lubersac. They were sent as a Christmas present to those ladies, but the weather intervened, and they did not reach their destination until some three days' later. When they did reach their objectives, however, it was found that they were as fragrant and fresh as if they had been plucked a few minutes earlier from their bushes.

The Canadian Pacific Express Company was responsible for the handling of the roses from Brampton via Saint John and overseas on board the SS. "Montcalm" to Liverpool. They arrived at the latter city December 23, and were then shipped to the Croydon aerodrome, to be carried by airplane to Paris. These dispatches from this country had been timed to the minute to decorate the ladies' breakfast tables on Christmas morning in Paris.

But the storm that struck Great Britain around the Christmas season had a say in the matter. The aerodrome was snowed under, and it was found impossible to send out an airplane. The roses were held up and did not finally reach Paris until December 25, when they were delivered promptly. The disappointment was more to the sender and the express company who had strained every resource to get the flowers to their destination on time and who were only defeated by weather that was unprecedented in Great Britain, and that could not be foreseen and guarded against. What the recipients' reactions to the gifts were, are not chronicled, but it is fairly sure that they were delighted with these Canadian flowers from a Canadian gentleman, and impressed by the tour de force of their despatch, which disproved the words of their great national poet, who mourns in one of his best-known poems that the rose "endures but the space of a morning."

It is surprising the number of people who spend a more or less miserable life, unable to accomplish the things of which they are capable because they have not health. These same people are surprised when, on a medical examination, they learn there is something wrong with their bodies, something not perhaps serious enough to cause death, but sufficient to handicap them in their daily life and, perhaps, to make them grow prematurely old.

Again there are those who miss the happiness that comes with health and yet are free from any physical blemishes. These are the people who are not and oil rights and with the exception following the simple rules of hygiene living. We cannot rob our bodies of mineral rights in the west. With the object of having their oil rights developed the Hudson Bay-Maclean Oil Co. was formed. It was decided to have Maclean company send their staff of geologists, all men who had had years of successful geological experience, and spend two years making a complete survey of the three prairie provinces. Mr. Glen M. Ruby, with a staff of some twenty four geologists, chemists and scouts, have spent the last two seasons, examining the records of wells drilled, and securing all other data pertaining to the many outcroppings. This has all been carefully assembled and after very careful study it has been recommended that a deep hole be drilled on Section 8, Township 49, Range 12—Viking News.

French-Canadian folk songs are becoming more and more popular as was shown by the recent recital at the Jacob Slesper Hall, Boston, addressed by Mrs. M. G. Gibson and illustrated by songs by Charles Marchand, well-known singer of French-Canadian songs. Boston University students and many members of the Canadian Club and of Boston Musical societies attended the recital.

Ottawa—A shipment of six bacon type pure-bred swine from Canadian farms to New Zealand has recently been made. Three of the hogs were Canadian type Berkshires from Ridgeway, Ontario, and were prize winners at the Royal Fair. The other three were Tamworths from Ontario and Quebec breeders. This is the first year that hogs have been imported into New Zealand from North America since 1916. Other shipments are expected to follow shortly.

The annual dog-racing classic—the Eastern International Dog-Sled Derby—will again be run in Quebec City, February 20-22 next under the auspices of the Winter Sports association of that city. It will cover 120 miles in the three days and already some of the best known mushers in the United States and Canada are entered for the race which carries a cash prize of $1,000 and custody for a year of a handsome gold cup.

Calgary—More than $500,000 worth of cattle from the farms of the province of Alberta were exported to the United States during July 1st and November 30, 1927, according to the report of the American Consul at Calgary. The shipments include some 12,000 head, comprising steers, feeders and butcher cattle. The American markets at the present time are very inviting to stockmen in Western Canada and shipments have shown greater activity during the past six months than in any similar period since 1922.

Canadian Pacific Express, railway and steamships and finally an airplane were employed to carry two boxes of roses from Brampton, Ont. to Paris, France as a gift at Christmas. The roses were sent by Lt. Col. J. B. Maclean of Toronto to Princess Carolyn de Faucigny-Lucinge and to Countess Odon de Lubersac and only the heavy snowfall that swept Great Britain at that time prevented them from being placed on those ladies' breakfast tables on Christmas morning. As it was, they arrived two days later, as fresh as though they had just been plucked.

EYES OF THE WORLD FOCUSED ON THE VIKING OIL FIELD

About two years ago, E. W. Marland, head of the Marland Oil Co., of Oklahoma and Texas, one of the most successful oil operators in the United States, completed arrangements with the Hudson's Bay Co., for the development of oil on the lands held by them in Western Canada. This company holds the oil and gas rights on practically two sections in every township in the three prairie provinces. This consists of 2,177,600 acres in Alberta, 2,184,000 acres in Saskatchewan and 1,295,400 acres in Manitoba, making a total of 5,658,000 acres. While the Hudson's Bay Co. has held a lot of oil rights in the three Western provinces, they have reserved the mineral rights and with the exception following the simple rules of hygiene living. We cannot rob our bodies of mineral rights in the west. With the object of having their oil rights developed the Hudson Bay-Maclean Oil Co. was formed. It was decided to have Maclean company send their staff of geologists, all men who had had years of successful geological experience, and spend two years making a complete survey of the three prairie provinces. ### Here and There

Saint John—Almost 200 new Danish colonists were added to the settlement of New Denmark in the course of the past year, and the population of the colony is now 800. Colonists are prospering and a further increase in activity is expected in 1928.

Morris Ackerman, acknowledged as one of the leading authorities on fishing and hunting in this continent, urges protection and a close season for great northern pike, grey trout and dore in Ontario and Quebec. He says that the pike is being caught in a day below the figure of four specimens now permitted. Otherwise depletion will cause heavy losses in diminished tourist traffic.

AN EARLY BANK OF MONTREAL "TOKEN"

FOUNDED before Canada had any currency of its own, the Bank of Montreal early obtained authorization from the Government to issue copper tokens for small change.

Reproduced herewith are the two sides of the "Bouquet" token, one of the earliest coins issued by the Bank. The intermingling of the rose, shamrock and thistle indicates the three branches of the British people—the English, Scotch and Irish—while the use of English on one side of the coin and French on the other is significant of the mingling of the two races in this country.

"Trade and Agriculture" indicates the early connection of the Bank with both urban and rural life in Canada.

Throughout its long history the Bank of Montreal has always been active in serving the financial needs of all the people.

SCHOOL NOTES

So frequently has the matter of spare periods in school been brought to our attention by parents and so many varied have been the questions asked concerning them, that a brief statement of what they are and why, may be of interest. A father once ventured the suggestion, that "these spares are no good and ought to be cut out," and there was much truth in his remark. The ideal condition would be to have the whole class utilizing a brief spare period for all revolving instruction. When a student is having a spare, it is usually because he is not taking instruction in the subject then being taught the remainder of the class. All students do not take all subjects taught. Usually these spare periods have served the purpose of completing some of the home studies, and as such they have been offered to the parents as reasons for having little or no home studies at night.

In the past we have made careful comparisons between the progress of students who take every subject offered and those who take fewer, even to a bare minimum. This latter group has spare periods daily and these students attempt to utilize these for homework. Generally speaking, High School students have not the power of concentration highly developed and their attention is easily divided between their seat work and the instruction being received by the remainder of the class. Naturally the home work is inefficiently done as a rule.

Examination results, (both term and final) over a period of years, have shown that those students who carry the greater number of subjects, almost invariably are class leaders, and that those who are least heavily burdened are "followers," those with one or two extras coming between. That is those who confine their attention to the minimum requirements, get both the maximum time for study per subject and the minimum marks per subject. (The point is they don't use this maximum time allowance.)

that the most intellectually active and ambitious student should take advantage of all that is offered and that those who find school work more difficult and less interesting should confine their attention to fewer units, but on the other hand those latter students have much more time for study per subject and should make a better showing. The spares should no longer be made a valid excuse for not having home studies. Those students should put full time on their work as others do who are more heavily loaded.

As long as some students do not take all the subjects taught, there will be "spares." The student's term standing should be the indicator of the necessity for more or less home study. Spares should be disregarded entirely in this matter.

Public school classes will commence at 9 o'clock on Monday, Feb. 6th.

PONOKA BAPTIST CHURCH
RECEPTION TO REV. B. J.
AND MRS. WATERMAN

An excellently attended and enthusiastic gathering was held on Friday evening, the 20th, at the Ponoka Baptist church, to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Waterman a hearty welcome as he came upon his work as pastor of the church.

The ladies of the church provided an excellent supper at 7 o'clock, to which about seventy did ample justice.

Dr. McLaurin, who was former Superintendent of the Baptist Mission Board, then spoke of the splendid fellowship enjoyed while associated with Mr. Waterman in the church work. Dr. Leitch, Superintendent of the Baptist Board, then addressed the meeting, giving an outline of the great opportunity that presents itself through the medium of the church.

Mr. Waterman gave the closing address showing his sincerity in the work of the church and his desire to do his part in the furtherance of the cause of Christ. Meeting then closed with prayer by Mr. Waterman.—Ponoka Herald.

CROWDS THROUG PARLIAMENT TO HEAR LEADERS

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Debate on the address in the House Monday—coupled with the reception to President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State—brought crowds to Parliament Hill reminiscent of the stirring days two years ago when they confronted struggle for party supremacy. Down the corridors, hour after hour, a long queue waited for admission to the public galleries of the House and to the reception.

It was the first occasion on which Hon. R. B. Bennett, as Conservative leader, and Premier Mackenzie King had been at issue across the floor of the House. Mr. Bennett opened; domestic affairs, imperial relations and foreign relations were the subjects which set for himself. He found a serious employment situation in the Dominion, a decline in railway revenues and a decrease in population. Emphasizing immigration questions, he urged a committee of the House of Commons to hold an inquiry into the present situation to remove a suspicion that was abroad in Canada regarding the department of immigration.

Declining immigration threatened the life of the Dominion and the problem must be met in a large way, involving large expenditures of money. The Conservative leader was positive in demanding immediate pension legislation and the return of the natural resources of Alberta to that province. The equality of status, claimed for Canada by members of the Government was a "species of deception," to which he could not be a party.

"I am opposed to setting up these foreign legations instead of appointing trade commissioners," he said. It was "all nonsense" to talk about improving Canada's status by the sending of a minister to Japan. The implication of such things were most dangerous.

Prime Minister King early in his speech took issue with Mr. Bennett on the subject of immigration and unemployment. The unemployment situation had not been better for years, and the Government did not propose to extend immigration to the point where it would bring about unemployment. Building statistics, bank returns and the debt reduction were brought into the speech to prove the prosperity of Canada.

A glimpse into the budget possibilities was offered to the House when the prime minister said he would be much surprised if the minister of finance could not announce "a reduction in the public debt, a surplus and further tax reductions."

The prime minister took the occasion to give the House the first official statement on the St. Lawrence waterway situation since the advisory committee concluded its work. The Government, he said, was communicating with the United States to obtain the views of that country on certain fundamental points which had been recommended by the advisory committee, and until the Government of the United States had replied, he could not say how far the negotiations would proceed. The question of federal and provincial rights in connection with the waterway had been referred to the supreme court of Canada by an order-in-council recently passed.

COMMANDER IN CHIEF OF BRITISH ARMIES
IN GREAT WAR DIES

London, Jan. 30.—Earl Douglas Haig, who, as commander-in-chief of the British armies in France and Belgium, contributed in a large share to the allies' success in 1918, died here shortly after midnight today from heart disease. He was 60 years old.

He was on the point of retiring when he collapsed while sitting on the edge of the bed. He did not lose consciousness immediately, but the end came shortly afterwards.

Since the war, Earl Haig has devoted much of his time to organizing relief for disabled soldiers and their families.

The marshal was reserved at most to the point of coldness, but those who were really acquainted with him during the war said that beneath his icy exterior there beat a warm heart which bled daily as the great soldier spoke of the dead. He did not lose consciousness until the end came, but the end came shortly afterwards.

As soon as the war ended, he started a campaign to raise funds for the men who had given their all. He originated "Poppy Day," an annual event, when millions of cloth flowery made entirely by former service men and representing the crimson poppies that bloom in Flanders, are sold throughout the British empire for the benefit of the disabled soldiers. Earl Haig was also successful in his personal attentions to soldiers in hospitals and other institutions.

His last public utterance, Saturday, showed him in the light of a staunch defender of his country. He told a troop of Boy Scouts, assembled for an enrollment ceremony at Richmond: "Stand up for England when people speak disrespectfully of her. Try and realize what citizenship and public spirit really means."

NEW RAILWAY BUILDING ON BIG SCALE

Winnipeg, Jan. 26.—"On Canada is on the high road to a great and economically sound prosperity, and I think I may say, with reasonable assurance that during the next ten years, if Canada progresses as we anticipate, there will be more money expended in railway expansion than in any other single industry."

This was the optimistic note struck by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway at the convention of western retail lumbermen here today.

In outlining the tasks, problems and needs of the transportation companies of the Dominion, Mr. Beatty declared that the railways must be placed in a strong position so that they may assume with confidence their share of the burdens of Canadian development and commerce and be able to do so without weakened credit and restricted facilities.

WEST EXEMPTERS ARE EXPECTING RESOURCES ACT

Ottawa, Jan. 27.—In the light of discussion at the Dominion-provincial conference, the ministers are continuing negotiations with the prairie provinces for the return of their natural resources and are giving consideration to the restoration to the province of British Columbia of the lands in the railway belt, and the Peace River block.

This sentence in the speech from the throne attracts a lot of attention among the western members today as indicating possible action this session on this subject, generally. Such legislation immediately as applicable to all the provinces, is impossible in the case of Alberta, however, if there is a judicial determination of the legal issue. No doubt the bill to return Alberta's domain will be brought in, but that province seems to agree with the others may await hold the key position and definite what is done with Alberta.

The mention made about British Columbia case is considered a straight tip that the lands in the railway belt and in the Peace River block are to be handed back after the royal commission reports. This report is not yet in, but its general purpose seems to be anticipated. The claims of the province on legal grounds is likely to be entertained but, as indicated, a moral claim will be recognized. British Columbia will not object to the way its case is won, so long as it is won and it receives what it has long been after.

NEW HOSPITAL WAS OPENED FRIDAY NIGHT

The new provincial hospital for the care of children who have been partially crippled as a result of infantile paralysis was formally opened on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The brief opening ceremony was held in the west ward, Dr. Bow, deputy minister of health for Alberta, presiding.

Public meetings in opening the program, said that he felt that the event for which they were gathered was important in the history of health activity in Canada and indeed in the whole of North America. The terrible effects of infantile paralysis, through an epidemic of which Alberta has just passed, are better realized than ever before, but it is hardly understood how many cases there are scattered all about the province for which the skilled help necessary to secure complete recovery could hardly be obtained except by bringing them to some central point like the hospital now being opened.

In this institution the necessary help would be rendered at a minimum of cost, so that no child's future well-being might be unfavorably affected through poverty. The investment cost for the government of the province was about $400 per bed, and the daily cost per patient for hospital care, skilled medical attention and the service of a teacher, could, it was believed, be kept at $1.75 a day.

BIBLE INSTITUTE HAPPENINGS

"Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered."—Psalm 32:1.

During the past week gospel meetings have been held in the Swedish Baptist Church as announced.

On Tuesday and Thursday evening, our teacher, Rev. E. G. Hansell gave very inspiring messages.

We were glad to see such a large crowd on Wednesday evening, when Rev. N. G. Pearson showed us some interesting lantern slides on his work in Africa.

On Friday evening, a prayer meeting was held in the Swedish language, after which Alfred Taranger gave a very inspiring message. A street meeting was held on Saturday evening, when Rev. Larson proclaimed a gospel message.

Rev. Larson held services last Sunday at Fawn in the afternoon and at Battle Lake in the evening.

On Monday we were glad to welcome Dr. C. C. McLaurin of Calgary, to our midst. He gives us addresses on "Home Missions." Other classes are held as usual.

The young people are having a program on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. Every evening a meeting is being held at 7:45 p.m. We welcome you all to these meetings.

Here's Speedy Relief for Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Moone's Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction
Or Money Cheerfully Refunded

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture and pray for quick relief. What is to be done?

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns and Callouses a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with powders, footbaths or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula — this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Wetaskiwin Rink Sets New Record in Edmonton Spiel

Winning the greatest number of games in the spiel, Mrs. McMurdo and her plucky little rink from Wetaskiwin played their fourth game of the day in the Jackson Cup (secondary) finals on Friday evening, and took a win of 10-7 from Mrs. McIntyre of the Royal. McMurdo played the stronger game throughout with splendid support from every member of her rink. The unusual shots made by this skip, which have been the wonder of the spiel, did not fail her in spite of the extreme fatigue which must have resulted from the hard-fought games of the day. McMurdo scored the first two ends, McIntyre taking four coupers in the third. McMurdo crept up steadily, counting 2 and 1 before McIntyre counted 1 in the sixth, tying the score 5-5. McMurdo scored in the seventh, McIntyre tied again in the eighth; McMurdo scored in the ninth, tenth and eleventh, having a three-point lead when McIntyre scored 1 in the twelfth. On two or three occasions in the game McMurdo drew to the button through a very narrow port, leaving the onlookers gasping with admiration.

This Wetaskiwin aggregation made a new record in bonspiel circles by winning as well the semi-finals in the Visitors' Competition in the afternoon, and coming up to the finals against Mrs. Fraser of Vegreville. The MacDonald Consolidated (Visitors) competition was therefore left over until this morning—Edmonton Journal.

KIWANIS CLUB ENTERS TAINING VISITING CURLERS

The weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club was held on Monday evening in the new banquet room of the Driad Hotel, when the visiting curlers attending the bonspiel and a number of others were guests. About one hundred and fifty sat down to a sumptuous meal, and it was an auspicious opening of the "New Kiwanian Home." W. I. Loggie, honorary president of the Wetaskiwin Curling Club gave a brief address on "Curling," and referred to the physical, social and intellectual sides of the game. H. A. Inglis, president of the curling club, welcomed the visitors. A vocal stunt in charge of J. W. McDermid and Carl Jacobs, in which a number of "hits" on local affairs were given, evoked roars of laughter. Community singing, under the leadership of Chet Niles, music director of the club, kept the large gathering in a happy mood. The luncheon was a decided success from every standpoint.

Quebec Dog Derby is Big Winter Event

ST. LOUIS GATE, QUEBEC

February 20-22 will be the high light of the Quebec Winter sports when the Eastern International Dog-Sled Derby will be run over a course of 120 miles, which will take three days to complete. World-famous drivers such as L. Spallia, E. St. Godard, G. O'Rourke, and eleven others took part last year, among them being Paddy Nolan, the fifteen-year boy musher, who put up a sterling battle and was only defeated by bad luck. Winner gets a purse of $1,000 and custody for one year of the handsome gold cup. Last year the winner was St. Godard.

The season lasts three months, from the end of December, and there are winter sports galas, including skiing, ski-joring, tobogganing, bob-sledding, skating, snow-shoeing, curling, hockey, and runs to places of interest in dog sleds. Masked balls, and outstanding events in the winter sport world are further features of the season, and all are with-

In easy reach or even just outside the Chateau Frontenac, one of the finest hosteries in America. Quebec is a colorful and romantic city and the quaint narrow streets are most delightful in winter when the picturesque buildings emerge from huge drifts of snow. Many of the carts and wagons are brilliant reds, yellows or blues, and houses are often equally gay. Bob-sledding on the old city walls is one of the romantic sports, and skiing over the Plains of Abraham where memorable battles were fought, is another.

Double-Disk Front Seed Delivery

Ask any user of a McCormick, Deering, or International grain drill why he likes it and his answer in most cases will be that the front seed delivery places every seed in the bottom of the furrow where it is evenly covered and grows uniformly with all other seeds in the field.

The front seed delivery, which is a regular feature on these drills, drops the seed ahead of the disc bearing and thus prevents scattering and waste. It also prevents uneven growth because every seed gets the same degree of moisture and consequently the whole field grows and ripens together.

A European Tour

(By P. E. Korr, B.A., Peterborough)

One of the most delightful experiences we had was a trip by boat on one of the canals from Amsterdam to the island of Marken in the Zuider Zee. This gave us the most excellent opportunity to see the rural life. The canal itself was below sea-level yet it was higher than the land at either side. This land was eighteen feet below sea-level and very flat. The excellent black and white Holstein cattle were seen everywhere. The fields are rather small and the fences are just ditches filled with water that is often stagnant and ill-smelling. These conditions are typical of Holland and probably pertain to no other country in the world. The matter of fences is interesting in Europe. In Scotland there are many stone fences. In England beautifully and artistically trimmed hedges prevail, while in the country around Paris there seemed to be few fences at all. It was very interesting in Holland to see farmers load their hay on rafts and drag them on the water around to their barns. I wondered where the cow stables were but soon discovered when we were taken to a farmhouse in a small Dutch village. The house, barn, stable and driving shed are all under one roof. The people occupy all the rooms in the first flat. Above this are the lots for holding hay. Adjoining the rooms is the stable with the cheese presses. All was very clean, but the cows do not need stabling in summer. I did feel dubious about winter conditions. We were taken into the Dutch Reformed Church of the Village. It would correspond to a Presbyterian or a United Church here. It was bright, tidy, and attractive. What chiefly drew my attention were the old-fashioned collection bags similar to those used here in many churches years ago. These had particularly long handles, and what was still more surprising each had a small bell attached to the bottom. I could only conjecture what the purpose of this might be. It was evidently not intended to be simply an ornament. Dutchmen dress in a similar fashion to us usually, but in rural communities and outlying districts the old-fashioned apparel is still to be seen. The men wear dark or violet shirts or high-buttoned jackets, black baggy trousers like bloomers, long black stockings, and the clumsy and noisy wooden shoes. The women wear a kind of nightcap or sunbonnet with embroidered edges drawn tightly over the head and ears. But on each side of the face hangs a solitary curl. The skirt, or rather skirts, for they wear several, are very full and give an impression of stoutness. Boys and girls are dressed alike until they are six years of age. At sixteen the girls "bob" their hair at the back but retain the two curls mentioned above. Holland impresses a person with its thrift and frugality.

Brussels is a beautiful city. One of the first places we visited was a sort of armoury called the National Rifle Ranges used by the Germans as a prison during the war. In the yard is a tablet showing the exact spot where Edith Cavell was shot. The German commander at Brussels had given an order that she must be shot for giving assistance to the British. He heard that his order was likely to be countermanded by the German government and so he hastened to carry out his sentence. When the firing squad was lined up, one soldier refused to shoot and was immediately shot dead by the officer in charge. Edith Cavell is buried in England.

Wiertz's picture gallery was a most interesting place. Wiertz was considered a madman in his own time, but would probably be described as eccentric today. His pictures aim to portray the evils of drink and immorality. Many of the faces are horrible indeed but wonderfully painted. One canvas must have been about thirty feet high and twenty feet wide. In one corner is the picture of a dog so life-like that many of us actually thought it was a stuffed model.

The Palais de Justice (Palace of Justice) in Brussels we were informed, is the largest building in Europe. It is massive and covers ten acres of ground. It rises 300 feet above the third floor and took twenty years to build. During the war it accommodated 5,000 German soldiers with their horses. The Germans robbed it of its beautiful brass fittings in order to make munitions of war.

It was in Brussels where Lord Byron composed part or all of the poem, "Childe Harold," of which the poem, "Watford," is a selection. Here also Victor Hugo wrote his renowned novel "Les Misérables." The houses that these authors occupied have plaques to commemorate them.

It is strange how certain things impress a person. I do not recollect seeing a bookstore in Brussels. Fruit-stores were very scarce, but beer parlors were there in abundance. They are large halls provided with tables and chairs for the convenience of patrons. When the accommodation is not sufficient, tables are placed on the sidewalks and even on the streets. It was quite difficult to get water to drink in Belgium; we took soft drinks. Not only does one pay for the cost of the drink, he must in addition pay a government tax and give the waiter a tip. All of these were marked on the slip handed to the thirsty individual. Another strange feature of the continental hotels was that no soap was provided. There are no baggage cars on the trains. Each person must look after his own and it is piled on racks above him in the compartment. Our guide saw that our was put on and off trains and so saved us much inconvenience.

MILLET UNITED CHURCH CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

At the service in the Millet United church on Sunday evening, Mr. W. S. Douglas gave a very interesting talk on a work in which he is greatly interested—that of carrying to outlying communities Christian literature collected from Sunday schools all over Alberta. He made an appeal to all members of the Sunday school to return their Sunday school papers after reading them, that they might be passed on to outlying districts, that those so isolated might enjoy them. Arrangements were made for collection and forwarding at this point. Following the address by Mr. Douglas, the service took the form of a congregational meeting, when reports from the different organizations in the congregation were read. The treasurer's report was given by Mr. J. R. K. Graham, the Sunday school by Mrs. T. Aikens, superintendent; the Ladies' Aid financial statement from Mrs. C. A. Kent, treasurer, was read by Mrs. T. Aikens, Howard Olsen, Sunday school secretary, gave the school report, following this report by that of the Sunday school treasurer, Miss Muriel Aikens.

Mrs. L. R. MacDonald reported on Mission Band work and Mrs. J. R. K. Graham gave the reports of the missionary department of the Ladies' Aid and also that of the C.G.T.I., which latter report she explained as belonging also to the sister churches.

Rev. L. R. MacDonald gave the report of the Trail Rangers, of which he is the leader, a group numbering 15, who meet regularly on Friday evenings in the church.

Election of officers then took place. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Ladies' Aid and at the close of the service light refreshments were served by the ladies.

Simple Home Recipe For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this good advice.

Artificial digestants and starvation diets are seldom needed. Within reach on most folks may eat what they like, if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion. And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a little Bismarcked Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless form of Magnesia that swiftly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A few days trial of Bismarcked Magnesia (powder or tablets), which any good druggist can supply at trifling cost, should quickly convince you that fully 90 per cent. of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Try Bismarcked Magnesia today!

PLEASANT PRAIRIE

Pleasant Prairie was visited by a wave of sorrow when Richelda Thorosa Krause, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Krause was taken to her last earthly resting place at St. John's cemetery of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The attendance was unusually large, the church being filled to the door, while the pastor spoke words of consolation on Matthew 9, verses 18-19, and 23-26. Tears flowed freely from the near relatives throughout the ceremony. The floral contributions were very beautiful, there being two wreaths from the teacher and children of Pleasant Prairie, one from Mr. and Mrs. J. Rorup, and one from Mr. and Mrs. John Karlo.

The deceased was born October 9, 1915 and was baptized Nov. 21, 1915. She departed to the Great Beyond January 24, at the age of twelve years, three months and fifteen days. She leaves to mourn her untimely death her parents, four brothers and five sisters. One of her sisters has already gone before her.

On Friday evening, February 17, the Young People's Society of St. John's Ev. Lutheran church will give a program at Pleasant Prairie school, consisting chiefly of comic dialogues. There will also be vocal and instrumental music. The proceeds are intended for a needy student at college.
